

Data Leadership Academy

Using Data
A TERC INITIATIVE

Facilitator: Jennifer Unger

TERC, in partnership with MESPA, offers a 2-day Data Leadership Academy designed for district and school leaders, including superintendents, assistant superintendents, principals, and assistant principals.

This professional development helps leaders build capacity to initiate, lead, and support data-informed decision-making and impact classroom practices. Participants will:

- Understand a shared vision and the expectations for the role of leadership;
- Understand a variety of data sources needed for implementing a coherent process of data-informed instruction;
- Understand the rationale and make-up of a data team;
- Understand a process collaborative data inquiry;
- Understand the critical structures needed to support the ongoing work of data teams;
- Become familiar with a variety of best practices and research resources.
